P.O. Box 419064, Rancho Cordova, CA 95741-9064

September 5, 2001

CSSIN LETTER: 01-29

ALL IV-D DIRECTORS

Reason for this Transmittal

- ☐ State Law or Regulation Change
- ☐ Federal Law or Regulation Change
- ☐ Court Order or Settlement Change
- ☐ Clarification requested by One or More Counties
- ☒ Initiated by DCSS

SUBJECT: MATERIALS FROM THE CHILD SUPPORT DIRECTORS ASSOCIATION (CSDA) MEETING

In order to promote effective communication between the Department of Child Support Services (DCSS) and the Local Child Support Agencies (LCSAs), DCSS will compile Department generated material handed out during the open session of each CSDA meeting. The materials will be forwarded to each LCSA to ensure that all Directors receive a complete set of handouts. Enclosed are the handouts from the August 2, 2001 CSDA meeting.

When appropriate, DCSS will use this CSSIN letter format for responding to issues raised during the CSDA meeting which require further research or analysis prior to response.

I hope this information will prove to be helpful to all Directors, particularly those Directors who are not able to regularly attend all CSDA meetings.

Sincerely,

CURTIS HOWARD
Assistant Deputy Director
Child Support Services Division

CHILD SUPPORT TOTAL PROJECTED DISTRIBUTED COLLECTIONS
FOR FISCAL YEARS 2000-01 and 2001-02
MAY 2001 REVISE

The charts below display California's current year (CY) 2000-01 and budget year (BY) 2001-02 child support total collections that are distributed to the state as revenue (Assistance), to the families (NonAssistance), and to other states and to families for the $50 state disregard payments (Other).

- Assistance Collections ($685 million CY, $744 million BY) are revenue to the state, which reflects basic collections and new premises. Basic collections ($628 million CY, $684 million BY) are the ongoing efforts of the local child support agencies (LCSA) to collect child support payments from noncustodial parents. New premises ($57 million CY, $59 million BY) are those collections that are associated with new enforcement activities that are above the basic ongoing functions of the LCSA, such as Franchise Tax Board non-tax collections, and demonstration projects.
- NonAssistance Collections ($1.2 billion CY, $1.4 billion BY) are collections that are made on behalf of families and sent to them. These collections are comprised of basic collections ($1.2 billion CY, 1.4 billion BY) and new premises ($44 million CY, and $47 million BY).
- Other Collections ($146 million CY, $158 million BY) are comprised of assistance ($18 million CY, $20 million BY) and nonassistance ($98 million CY, $110 million BY) collections that are made on behalf of other states. Other collections also include the $50 State Disregard Payment to families ($30 million CY, $28 million BY), which is the first $50 of the current months child support payments collected and passed through to the custodial parents who are receiving assistance.

CHILD SUPPORT TOTAL DISTRIBUTED COLLECTIONS TREND ANALYSIS
MAY 2001 REVISE

Total child support collections have grown from $1.2 billion in Fiscal Year (FY) 1996-97 to a projected level of $2.3 billion in FY 2001-02. This represents a 89 percent overall growth rate.

The chart below reflects the actual and projected total basic collections and percentage increase by state fiscal years from 1995-96 to 2001-02.

CALIFORNIA DEPARTMENT OF CHILD SUPPORT SERVICES

P.O. Box 419064, Rancho Cordova, CA 95741-9064

July 25, 2001

DRAFT

CSS LETTER:

TO: ALL IV-D DIRECTORS
ALL DISTRICT ATTORNEYS
ALL COUNTY ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICERS
ALL BOARDS OF SUPERVISORS

SUBJECT: JURISDICTION OF STATE HEARING PROCESS

The Department of Child Support Services (DCSS) has promulgated regulations, effective July 1, 2001, implementing the legislative mandate that local child support agencies (LCSA) establish a local complaint resolution process, and that complainants have the right to appeal of appropriate complaints to a state hearing. The legislative mandate is set forth in Family Code Section 17800 et seq., and DCSS' implementing regulations can be found in Title 22, Division 13, Chapter 10, of the California Code of Regulations. This letter clarifies the following: 1) the types of complaints that are not appropriate for submission to, and resolution through, the local complaint resolution process; 2) the types of complaints which, after exhaustion of the complaint resolution process, must be pursued through motion, order to show cause, or appeal to court; and 3) the types of complaints which, after exhaustion of the complaint resolution process, may properly be reviewed through the state hearing process.

The attached chart details types of complaints that may be lodged, complaints which should not be included within the complaint resolution process, and the appropriate forum for review for complaints that are properly the subject of the complaint resolution process. The chart is not intended to address every type of complaint that may be made, but rather is intended as a general guide. This chart should provide guidance to help local child support agencies provide accurate information and assistance to complainants.

Complaints Not Appropriately Addressed Through the Complaint Resolution Process

Although the majority of complaints are appropriately within the jurisdiction of the complaint resolution process (if not resolved prior to the filing of a complaint), the following types of complaints are not within the purview of the process:

- 1) Complaints which must, by law, be addressed by motion, order to show cause, or appeal, in a court of law – unless an administrative review is provided for by statute.
- 2) A review of a court ordered amount of child support or child support arrears.
- 3) A court order or equivalent determination of paternity.
- 4) A court order for spousal support.
- 5) Child custody or visitation matters.

If the LCSA receives a Request for Complaint Resolution on one of these issues, the LCSA is not required to conduct a review of the complaint, and may close the complaint by sending a Notice of Complaint Resolution to the complainant within 30 days of receipt of the complaint.

Additionally, for certain complaints, taking the time to complete the local complaint resolution process can jeopardize an individual's right to seek court review of the complained of action or otherwise resolve the issue. This would occur in matters where there is a particularly short time frame in which to challenge an action. For example, if the LCSA notifies an obligor of its intent to levy on property, the obligor generally has 10 days in which to file a claim of exemption with the LCSA. If the obligor were to file a Request for Complaint Resolution to have the concern addressed by the complaint resolution process, instead of filing the claim of exemption, the property would be levied upon before any resolution of the issue were possible.

The attached chart details other circumstances in which the complaint resolution process should not be used to resolve concerns raised by obligors or obligees. If the LCSA receives a Request for Complaint Resolution on one of these issues, the LCSA should contact the complainant immediately and inform him or her that the proper forum to raise that complaint is in court, and not through the local complaint resolution process. In either circumstance, the LCSA should refer the complainant to the Family Law Facilitator or local legal aid office.

Jurisdiction of the State Hearings

Although all complaints by custodial parties and noncustodial parents affecting their child support case, with the exception noted above, are within the purview of the local complaint resolution process if filed in a timely manner, not all complaints which are the appropriate subject of complaint resolution fall within the jurisdiction of, and may be appealed to, the state hearing process. Those complaints that fall outside of the jurisdiction of the state hearing process may be addressed in court if the complainant is not satisfied with the results of the local complaint resolution process.

California Family Code section 17801 et seq. defines the following types of complaints as within the jurisdiction of the state hearing process, after the complainant has exhausted the local complaint resolution process and received a "Notice of Complaint Resolution," LCR006, from the LCSA:

- 1) An application for child support services has been denied or has not been acted upon within the required timeframe.
- 2) The child support services case has been acted upon in violation of state or federal law or regulation or department letter ruling, or has not been acted upon within the required time frame, including services for the establishment, modification, and enforcement of child support orders and child support accountings.
- 3) Child support collections have not been distributed or have been distributed or disbursed incorrectly, or the amount of child support arrears, as calculated by the LCSA is inaccurate.
- 4) The LCSA's decision to close a child support case.

The Family Code specifically provides, however, that issues which are required by law to be addressed in court by motion, order to show cause, or appeal, including the amount of a court order for support, are not within the jurisdiction of the state hearing process. The attached chart provides examples of types of complaints that may be lodged and the appropriate forum for review of those complaints – the superior court or the state hearing process.

Support Arrearages – Election of Forum

California law provides for jurisdiction of complaints concerning a miscalculation of arrearages in a state hearing or in a court. The complainant has the choice of where to seek review. Specifically, Family Code section 17801 places the issue of review of arrearages calculated by the LCSA within the purview of the state hearing if the complainant is dissatisfied with the results of the complaint resolution process (although a court determination of arrearages is not reviewable in a state hearing). Family Code sections 17524 – 17526 also describe a support obligor's right to an administrative determination of arrearages, which is met by complaint resolution and a state hearing.

However, Family Code section 17526 allows any party to an action involving child support enforcement services of the LCSA to request a judicial determination of arrearages, whether or not the party first exhausted his or her administrative remedies. In other words, a custodial party or noncustodial parent who disagrees with the LCSA's statement of arrearages owed may file a complaint as part of the local complaint resolution process, request a state hearing after completion of the local complaint resolution process, or file a motion in court at any time before or after, the complaint process or state hearing. The choice belongs to the complainant, and he or she should not be discouraged from selecting any of these routes for review of the matter.

However, the complainant is not entitled to file for a state hearing and a court review at the same time. If the complainant files for a court determination of arrears, any state hearing that has been filed on the same issue should be dismissed.

If the complainant chooses a state hearing for a determination of arrears and is dissatisfied with the state hearing decision, the complainant is entitled to file a motion in court for a de novo determination of arrears under Family Code section 17526. This right to file a motion for de novo review only applies to determinations of arrearages in the state hearing. All other issues within the jurisdiction of the state hearing process must be appealed to the court by filing a writ pursuant to Family Code section 17803.

To make sure all interests are protected, and to avoid a custodial party and noncustodial parent choosing different routes to obtain a determination of arrearages at the same time, the LCSA shall notify the non-complaining party when a request to determine arrearages is pursued either through a state hearing or court proceeding.

State Hearing Office / Administrative Law Judge to Determine Jurisdiction Issues

It is important that LCSAs understand the type of complaints that are appropriately within the jurisdiction of the state hearing process, and be able to accurately and effectively communicate this information to complainants. However, LCSAs must strive not to discourage complainants from filing a request for a state hearing because the LCSA believes the complaint may not properly be within the purview of the state hearing process. Like court actions, failure to file a request for a state hearing within set time frames will cause the complainant to lose the right to a state hearing. Specifically, a request for a state hearing must be made within 90 days of the date the complainant received the Notice of Complaint Resolution from the LCSA or, if the LCSA did not complete the complaint resolution process within the required time frames, within 90 days from the date the request for complaint resolution was made. The State Hearing Office or the administrative law judge will dismiss requests for hearing if they determine that the complaint is outside of the jurisdiction of the state hearing process.
